

★ ★ ★ HAPPY PRESIDENTS' DAY ★ ★ ★

Did You Know?

Ronald Regan was the first President of the United States to wear hearing aids while in office. He was 72 years old.

Bill Clinton was fitted for hearing aids in 1997, during his second term, when he was just 51. Clinton attributed his hearing loss to loud music exposure.

Be Presidential

Schedule your FREE hearing screening! This screening will allow us to establish a baseline and determine if you have hearing loss. It also helps us determine if and when treatment may be needed.

Click the button below to fill out our online contact form, or call [CLICKABLE PHONE #] to schedule your visit.

Contact Us

Option 1

Did You Know?

Ronald Regan was the first President of the United States to wear hearing aids while in office. He was 72 years old.

Bill Clinton was fitted for hearing aids in 1997, during his second term, when he was just 51. Clinton attributed his hearing loss to loud music exposure.

Be Presidential

Schedule your FREE hearing screening! This screening will allow us to establish a baseline and determine if you have hearing loss. It also helps us determine if and when treatment may be needed.

Click the button below to fill out our online contact form, or call [CLICKABLE PHONE #] to schedule your visit.

President's Day Trivia

Gallaudet University is a widely renowned higher education institution for the deaf and hard-of-hearing. Many Presidents of the United States helped Gallaudet become the school it is today.

- 1864- Congress authorized Gallaudet to confer college degrees, and President Abraham Lincoln signed the bill into law.
- 1969- President Lyndon Johnson signed an act to create the Model Secondary School for the Deaf
- 1970- President Nixon signed the bill establishing Kendall Demonstration Elementary School, now part of Gallaudet's Laurent Clerc National Deaf Education Center

Gallaudet was finally granted university status in 1986.

In honor of the Presidential contributions to Gallaudet, we're offering FREE hearing screenings all month long!

Click the button below to fill out our online contact form, or call us at [CLICKABLE PHONE 3] to schedule your visit.

Contact Us

Option 2

Presidents Day Trivia

Gallaudet University is a widely renowned higher education institution for the deaf and hard-of-hearing. Many Presidents of the United States helped Gallaudet become the school it is today.

1864- Congress authorized Gallaudet to confer college degrees, and President Abraham Lincoln signed the bill into law.

1969- President Lyndon Johnson signed an act to create the Model Secondary School for the Deaf

1970- President Nixon signed the bill establishing Kendall Demonstration Elementary School, now part of Gallaudet's Laurent Clerc National Deaf Education Center

Gallaudet was finally granted university status in 1986.

In honor of the Presidential contributions to Gallaudet, we're offering FREE hearing screenings all month long!

Click the button below to fill out our online contact form, or call us at [CLICKABLE PHONE #] to schedule your visit.